THE FARMERS' MARKET IS BACK AT COLUMBUS SQUARE!

The Farmers' Market returned to Columbus Square on July 17th for the fifth year in a row with great early produce like squash, zucchini and black raspberries, flowers and baked goods. One of the merchants brought corn grown in their fields in West Jefferson, some of the earliest corn in central Ohio.

The market, which is hosted in cooperation with the Pearl Alley Grower's Association, is open every Tuesday through October 23 from 4 to 6 PM located in the same place on the concrete pad on the north side of the Ohio Thrift Store.

The first week we had about a dozen sellers and plenty of buyers, you will see more sellers and more buyers each week as the Ohio crops ripen and are brought to the market, ready to sell.

The Farm Market banners are up on the light poles, and signs directing drivers are placed every Tuesday morning on Cleveland Avenue and Forest Hills Boulevard to help bring customers in to Columbus Square, the Farmer's Market, and your stores.

The farm market generates a lot of traffic at Columbus Square and is great exposure for your business. Make sure your windows sparkle and your stores look their best!
